Towards Clean Transport: Fuel Efficient and Clean Motor Vehicles Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, OECD/IEA

As fleet growth and vehicle use around the world grows, traffic and pollution from motor vehicles becomes a major environmental challenge for the coming decades. Should we make motor vehicles more fuel-efficient and more benign for the local and global environment? Or should we attempt to curb or even reduce the growth in the number vehicles and their use. The Mexico City conference discussed the possible strategies for combining these approaches. This publication presents the papers from the conference and a summary of the discussions.
