The Light of Ephraim Simcha H. Benyosef

The Light of Ephraim is about self-growth and human relationship. It is about a master kabbalist relating to a young couple on their quest for spiritual meaning. On a deeper level, The Light of Ephraim is about the messianic consciousness, linked with the Biblical Josef and his trial, as well as as with his son Ephraim which is currently being released into the world in a natural way as an arousal to the spiritual dimension. When a coal begins to burn explains the sage. It emits fiery sparks that you can see exploding noisily all around. This is like the intoxicating bond of bride and groom who pine for each other whenever they are not together. It reflects how we feel as Shabbat is about to start. After a while the coals turn to white and instead of the noisy sparks you have a soft glow. This is what happens when love matures. The love then is burning within you.....
