In the grip of the deadly 1918 flu pandemic, not even the strong survive.

The Spanish influenza is devastating the East Coast--but Cleo Berry knows it is a world away from the safety of her home in Portland, Oregon. Then the flu moves into the Pacific Northwest. Schools, churches, and theaters are shut down. The entire city is thrust into survival mode--and into a panic.

Seventeen-year-old Cleo is told to stay put in her quarantined boarding school, but when the Red Cross pleads for volunteers, she cannot ignore the call for help. In the grueling days that follow her headstrong decision, she risks everything for near-strangers. Strangers like Edmund, a handsome medical student. Strangers who could be gone tomorrow. And as the bodies pile up, Cleo can't help but wonder: when will her own luck run out?

Riveting and well-researched, A Death-Struck Year is based on the real-life pandemic considered the most devastating in recorded world history, and leaves readers asking: what would I do for a neighbor? At what risk to myself?

As a student exactly feel bored to reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library in order to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's soul or real their passion. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring and can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever you want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this A Death-Struck Year can make you experience more interested to read.
